October 14 & 15, 2017

Dear Parishioners,

This past week (Wednesday, Oct. 11) marked an important anniversary – the 55th Anniversary of Pope John XXIII's inauguration speech to the Second Vatican Council. So much is going on in the world today as it was back then, Vatican II became a beacon of hope, a beacon of change for the Church and for our world. Today, I think several of us are seeking that hope, that beacon to help us through what seems like unending devastation – hurricanes in the Southeast and the Caribbean, fires in California, earthquakes in Mexico, etc.

A Jesuit friend of mine posted a great quote this week from Pope John XXIII's speech that I want to share with you, "It often happens [that] the voices of people are brought to Us who... see only ruin and calamity in the present conditions of human society. They keep repeating that our times, if compared to past centuries, have been getting worse. And they act as if they have nothing to learn from history, which is the teacher of life... We believe We must quite disagree with these prophets of doom who are always forecasting disaster, as if the end of the world were at hand."

"In the present course of human events, by which human society seems to be entering a new order of things, we should see instead the mysterious plans of divine Providence..."

These are words of hope. Words that, as Catholics, give us the courage to meet the darkness with light, to meet violence with peace, to meet despair with hope. We are a faithful people that witness the pain and suffering that is going on in this world and still have faith in our fellow human beings and the world. Having faith is putting ourselves in God's hands not knowing exactly what it all means. The answers will come in time, but we live in hope and love in the meantime because of our beliefs in the Greater Glory of God (AMGD).

Apostles Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth;
And in Jesus Christ, his only Son, Our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried.
He descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again from the dead;
And ascended into heaven,
And is seated at the right hand of God,
the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church;
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting. Amen.

Stewardship Prayer

Lord and source of all gifts, I rejoice in the fullness of your generosity. I thank you for those whose lives are visible signs of your love and blessing to others. Give me the courage to do the same. Make me a good steward of all I have received generously sharing my time, abilities and material resources to build up your kingdom of love and justice. We ask this through Jesus Christ, in whom we begin and end all things. Amen.

Prayer of St. Francis

(Prayer for Peace)

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace;
where there is hatred, let me sow love;
where there is injury, pardon;
where there is doubt, faith;
where there is despair, hope;
where there is darkness, light;
and where there is sadness, joy.
O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console;
to be understood, as to understand;
to be loved, as to love; for it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to Eternal Life. Amen
